AOC PALETTE

THE APPELLATION

The AOC Palette is the smallest and the oldest appellation of Provence. It was born in 1948 and it counts only 42 hectares. The appellation is composed by various Provencal grapes which are respected and preserved. The harvests are manual. This micro-appellation is at the gates of Aix-en-Provence.

Its soil is made of « Calcaire de Langesse » which is directly derived from the Sainte-Victoire mountain massif.

VINIFICATION

Grapes are harvested by hand. After being destemmed, the grapes are sorted out. After a cold maceration and pressing, the fermentation is made in barrels. The ageing lasts 8 months.

The wine is bottled at the estate.

TASTING NOTE

The color is yellow with grey shades. The nose is intense, fresh with coconut and vanilla aromas. Smooth on the palate with candied fruits and brioche notes that give a very sweet sensation. Wine is tannic, mentholated and the finish is long.
